Last Month’s Meeting

Our October meeting had 27 attending including 3 visitors. Our new president, Glen Martin, outlined his goals for IPMS-R. Ashley Abernathy discussed updating our membership roster and ideas for more efficiently managing our finances. A complete review of our chapter’s by-laws is also in order. ODO Chairman Richard Leininger updated the membership on our 2023 show’s progress.

Scott Wallace has resigned as Secretary because of health matters and additional responsibilities with his job. A new secretary is needed. There was also discussion of the chapter’s moving to a new meeting place that will offer better acoustics and more amenities.

Temple Beth-El thanked IPMS-R for our contribution in memory of Aaron Winer.

Mike Lyons’ brother will again cater our December dinner. Mike is also planning our raffle for that event. We are also in the process of securing Old Dominion Open prizes.

Our Show & Tell segment included Doug Hayes' presentation on 3-D modeling. The meeting concluded with a chapter raffle.

BRING YOUR FAVORITE “VISUAL AID” FOR NOVEMBER’S DEMO!

Members are asked to bring one or two favorite devices they use to help with seeing their model during construction and detailing. These may be a jeweler's loupe, a magnifying visor, attachments to glasses, headband lights, or whatever you use to improve seeing your model while you work on it. Complete the “Vision Aid for Modelers” form included in this bulletin and place your item with the form on the demo table prior to the start of the meeting. Once our business portion of the meeting is over and the demo starts, members bringing items will stand next to them. We will take turns, giving a 2 minute or so description of what we brought, explaining the pros and cons of their items. These aids will be left on the table for our members to look at, try them on, and experience what these aids accomplish, if anything.

Quick Notes

HobbyTown on West Broad Street is holding a model contest on Saturday, December 3. Visit store or Richmond HobbyTown's website (hobbytown.com/richmond-va) for details.

We need your ideas and input! Can you help us with a demo or a chapter meeting program? Do you have an idea for a Spare Parts feature or article? Do you know a potential new member for IPMS Richmond? Let's grow IPMS-R together.

Looking forward to seeing YOU at the November 14 meeting!
